Complete Home-Mixed Fertilizers. Remarks of Herbert B. Battle, at Mt. Holly gathering, week before last.

One way of economizing is instead of buying an ammoniated fertilizer and paying therefor $25 to $40 a ton, to buy the ingredients separately and mix them at the farm. A complete fertilizer should contain nitrates, ammonistes, or some form of organic matter, potash in any of its various combinations, and some form of available phosphoric acid. In the mixture we will make kainit is to contain the requisite potash, acid phosphate to contain the available phosphoric acid and cotton seed meal the ammonia (as well as some potash and phosphoric acid.) We will need for a ton 300 lbs. of kainit, 1100 " acid phosphate, 600 cotton seed meal.

2000 These should be mixed on a wooden floor in an old out-house, putting down first a layer of acid phosphate, sprinkling on this next a layer of kainit taking care to break all the lumps previous to spreading, and finally a layer of cotton seed meal. Repeat this until the materials are exhausted. Now mix as thoroughly as possible with a spade or shovel; for on this mixing will depend in a great measure the quality of the fertilizer. It will not be a difficult matter, as the cotton seed meal and acid phosphates are always well powdered when bought, and the lumpy portions of the kainit will only need to be mashed fine before applied to the heap. Some recommend dissolving the kainit before applying this to the mixture instead of in a dry form, but this I do not approve of, for to thoroughly dissolve the kainit will require much water and considerable labor, and the solution when applied will unnecessarily wet the mixture, much to its detriment. With a little care and some patience this mixing may be done in a thorough manner, and, too, it is ready for use as soon as it is mixed. What is the result? We have a fertilizer containing:

7.44 per cent avail, phos. acid. 2.58 " ammonia. 2.28 " " potash.

Almost, if not quite, as good as the average ammoniated fertilizer, for which we pay at least $30 per ton. Now let us see what our materials cost us: 300 lbs. kainit with 12 per cent potash at $15 per ton, 1100 lbs. acid phos. 12 per cent 11.00 avail. phos. acid at $20,

These are the prices which farmers near Mt. Hofly, Charlotte, or Raleigh would pay. Our complete fertiliz r cost us $20.75 a ton if bought, it already mixed would have cost us at least $30 per ton, which is a saving of nearly $10, or 50 per cent of the to:al cost. Is not the labor and the little trouble needful for the mixing worth that much? We might vary the mixture

There is at least one hundred and fifty mules brought into and sold in Mecklenburg county yearly. Think of it. Don't you know fifty mules ought to more than supply the wear and tear of the mules in this county? This is proof to our mind that we kill by hard work, bad treatment, and starvation, one hundred head of mules every year. We know one man whose mules are always poor, backs and shoulders sore. This man buys all his feed, is always hard up and in a strain, and can't get credit for five dollars. We know another man whose mules are always fat, never scarred up, and he never buys any feed, and can get credit for any amount desired. One of these men is poor, lives hard and has no friends. The other is well off, lives well, and everybody is his friend. One is never in a strain, the other is always in a strain. One is happy, the other is miserable. One is the builder of his own fortune, the other is the wrecker of his fortune. How can any man get along, how can any man expect the Lord to prosper him in his business who is so cruel to his stock and so reckless of his own interest?

The laws ought to be enforced against every man who misuses and abuses his stock. Who will put the ball in motion? If men were made to take care of their And Real Benefits for the People. mules and horses in this county, it would be a clear saving in dollars and cents yearly to the county, or rather to the people of the county, of at least fifteen thousand dollars yearly. How can we help from being poor so long as we kill up our stock, buy all our home supplies from the North, and don't raise enough on the farms to foot the bills made during the year? Ought we not to be poor, and do we deserve any better fate?

We saw nine mules in town Saturday, and the owners of each ought to be indicted, convicted and punished for cruel and inhuman treatment to animals, and we have no doubt that there are two hundred such cases in the county. Poverty and hard-times will always follow in the

One fault with the farmers is, when any crop or a special kind of stock is paying a larger per cent of profit than any other stock or grain, they immediately turn their attention almost exclusively to that special product or stock, until the supply exceeds the demand, and, as a consequence, prices decline below the cost of production.

Farmers should notice the signs of these changes and revolutions in prices of the different commodities. They then could to some extent avoid all the extremes. When any kind of grain or stock pays an extremely high per cent of profit. they should not give all their attention to that special object; and, on the other hand when any article is selling at or below cost of production, they should not Brushes, Shoe Brushes and Kalsomine Brushes discontinue its cultivation or production at altogether, but they should avoid all the | Feb. 12, 1886.

The Possibilities of Agriculture.

Jas. H. Ennis at Mt. Holly Farmers' Institute. One great fault with many of our farmers is, the lack of faith in their calling. They assume that it is a hard task-master, reaping where he hath not sown. That they are required to make "bricks without straw," and so they murmur and grumble over their lot in life. They overlook the Pure Refined Lard, Choice Hams, Boneless great natural law, that "He that soweth Bacon, Smoked Beef and Beef Tongues and great natural law, that "He that soweth sparingly shall reap sparingly," and that whatsoever a man soweth that shall be reap;" that God bath ordained the earth as a generous mother, yielding her fruitfulness to her children, but only in proportion to the loving care bestowed. They hearken not to His command to replenish and subdue the earth; they forget the promise that while the earth remaineth "seed time and harvest, summer and winter shall not cease," and so they miss the blessing; for He hath said, "He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread." On the certainty of the fulfillment of His promise, if we will obey the command in its full meaning, I do affirm, that amid all the diversified pursuits of man, there is no one that has such grand possibilities as agriculture. We know that one single grain of wheat has increased eight hundred per cent; one grain of corn 1,300 per cent; one grain of oats sixteen hundred per cent, and one single cotton seed four thousand eight hundred per cent. Small as are the farms in China, their yields are enormous. On a farm of four acres, a family will live comfortably and save five or six hundred dollars a year. What the possibilities may be in the future in the full light of scientific knowledge only a Prophet's vision could foretell. In all the ages, no living man has yet reached the largest yield which one acre of land can be made to produce. We read of many instances of extraordinary production, and soon like the last victorious racer upon the course, $2.25 the record is beaten by some more skillful farmer.

Scrofula

Is one of the most fatal scourges which afflict mankind. It is often inherited, but may be the result of improper vaccination, mercurial poisoning, uncleanliness, and various other causes. This disease can be cured by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I inherited a scrofulous condition of the blood, which caused a derangement of my whole system.
